100 YEARS AND STILL INSPIRING US ALL

WE LOVE YOU, STAN!

DARKWEB

MS. MARVEL

KAMALA KHAN was a normal teenage girl--until the Terrigen Mists washed over Jersey City and unlocked her latent Inhuman powers. Using her newfound polymorph powers, she became the hero known as MS. MARVEL! Recently, Kamala's taken a position as a lab intern at Oscorp--the massive corporation run by NORMAN OSBORN, the reformed GREEN GOBLIN.

Meanwhile, BEN REILLY, the clone of PETER PARKER, A.K.A. SPIDER-MAN, and MADELYNE PRYOR, the clone of JEAN GREY, A.K.A. MARVEL GIRL, have recently sworn revenge against those who have historically wronged them as CHASM and the GOBLIN QUEEN of Limbo! They've set their sights on the heroes of New York City first...

SQUAAAAWKK!

MUCH, MUCH LATER. JERSEY CITY LANDFILL.

Ah, geez. This all came from the recycling plant? If people only knew...

They should know by now 'cus you say it every day to anyone who'll listen.

"It's all a lie from the plastic industry. Twenty percent of recycling ends up being trash."

It's 22%, ya mook! Try listenin' better.

LIMBO.

Madelyne Pryor causes trouble.

BLANG BLANG

RRRUUUUMMBLE

Whuzzat?

He's right, you know--

We hear it every day.

But talk is cheap, little man. Complaining isn't going to solve the problem...

...but eating all the annoying humans might!

SQUAWK
Don't waste your appetite on something so bony...

...I have a Juicier meal in mind.

2 HOURS earlier.

"Christmas lights
on a mosque?
Really, Sheikh?"

It's good to show our support for our Christian friends, Nakia.

That, or someone was too lazy to take the lights down after Eid.

I can try,
if we can ever find the missing ladder.

Thank you,
Aamir.

Sounds to me like you're volunteering to organize, Kamala.

Maybe we can do a nasheed/Christmas carol team-up with the Church around the corner!

Oh. Uh. Well, I would, but I just started a new internship so I'm a little short on time these days.

Way to bury the lede. Congrats on showing up the rest of us. What's the internship?

Huh? You mean, like, the name of it?

Umm...

You know Oscorp runs drug trials on live animals, right?

That's not true. I work in the lab, and there are no animals.

That means they have a whole separate lab where they torture animals!

It's a publicly traded company. I'm sure there's oversight.

The C.E.O. is a literal super villain!

Reformed. He's trying to do right thing with his resources now. Everyone deserves a chance at redemption, right?

If he really wanted to redeem himself, he'd give up all his ill-gotten gains and start over from the bottom.

But, no. Norman Osborn would prefer to redeem himself from the comfort of his penthouse armchair, looking down at the rest of us.

Because deep down, he hasn't changed at all. Ask Bruno. He had a job offer from them and he turned it down.

What?

59 SECONDS
Later

Well, to be fair, my job offer was two years ago. A lot's changed since then.

There! See?

But, Kamala, you've never mentioned wanting to be a scientist before. My bigger question is, why are you doing this internship?

That's a great question, Bruno. I've been wondering the same thing myself.

I mean, why not?

That's what you said about the job with the optometrist. And that water-bottling company. Don't take this the wrong way, but it kinda seems like you're just taking whatever comes your way.

Enough with the mansplaining, both of you! Okay, maybe I don't know what I'm doing yet. But sitting at home writing fanfic and playing video games isn't a career. Maybe this Oscorp gig is a mistake...

"...BUT IT'S MINE TO MAKE."

Kamala!
Nice goggles.

Just trying to catch up to your style, Arjun.

I guess we're lab partners again. Could you hold that flask very carefully?

Don't worry. I won't spill it like you did last time.

I only spilled it because you made me laugh. So no talking this time.

Hehe.

Seriously.

Do you think we got paired together in this lab because we're both brown?

I just assumed it was an all-seeing, all-powerful A.I. that sorted us lowly interns into our most efficient roles.

Right, that makes sense.

You sound cranky. Do you need a change of batteries?

Let's take a look.

Oh, it's obvious what the problem is here--

--you're overstuffed.

Phew. I hope this chaos was just contained to the lab...

Jersey City

"...OTHERWISE, IT'S ABOUT TO GET NUTTY OUTSIDE."

So, the ladder never turned up, eh?

No. Plenty of rats. But no ladder.

Then the lights are staying up. We are sharing the winter holiday spirit after all!

RRRUUUMMBLE

Aaaahh--

Try a little harder to fit in, why don'tcha?

Who said that?

Earthquake!

Are you saying the earthquake is talking?!

Yā Allah!

What's going on?

Oh, for cryin' out-- how many toilets are in this building?

(Don't answer that.)

So, Arjun, if your friend Kamala's family is anything like mine and, someday, I brought home a lovely guy who happened to be Hindu, I'm not sure how my parents would react.

But I dated a fellow Muslim once and he turned out to be the highest level of #$$%&.

After that, I was with a white guy who is the sweetest, nicest human being on Earth.

It's not the label, it's the person. So, maybe she didn't reject you because you're Hindu. Maybe she's just not looking to date right now--not that it's really any of your business.

Got it. I'm a #$$%&. Sorry I overstepped.

Hey, don't tell me. Tell her.

Yeah. Of course.

By the way, that was amazing back there.

Yeah, yeah. Thanks, Arjun.

Remember what I said about finding somewhere safe? Gonna need you to get on that.

Excuse me!
Yeah, over here.
Are you the jerk who beat up my boss?

Er--I mean the boss of a good friend of mine.

I'm Ms. Marvel!

I don't work here.

Does your...good friend know Peter Parker? I'm planning a party and I need guests.

She's... aware of him. Maybe.

What are we talking about?

Eh. I need practice either way.

May the mighty kalack see you!

Okay, you're freaking me out--

BUMP

Hey! What is this?!

May the bala-kan bind you sideways to the otherplace! May the bleeding ones echo my plea!

Halakati-mondali! Cabba don chala!

Am I saying that right?

AAAAH!!

This is not good.
Not good at all.
